I just wanted to let you know that your website with the poem on it just made my day. “I live in Odessa, Ukraine. A friend of mine sent me your peace flash animation which I thoroughly enjoyed. Here in Ukraine I help organize volunteer consulting groups to help people cope with their problems. I give basic training to potential group leaders and help them start groups in all kinds of places (as long as they are open, voluntary and free of charge), but mostly churches, traditional and evangelical denominations.

I am preparing a set of materials in Russian so those I trained could train others and have all necessary resources for that. The materials will be provided for free, as all any other training I give is also free. The purpose is to help people listen to one another, exercise self-control, show love and support each other and let those practices spread onto the entire community. This is one way we are trying to change the world.

I really like your peace presentation. I would like your permission to be able to use it with the materials I am preparing. If I am allowed to use the flash presentation, I will make sure all copyright information is preserved. However, I would like to translate the message into Russian and use English and Russian side by side (that will be a bilingual resource). The translation will preserve the message, no changes to the original text will be made. I like it the way it is.”

---Russia

"Your "What is Peace?" brought tears to my eyes while it softened my heart enough that I unclenched my teeth, lowered my always tightened shoulders and allowed my breathing to slow enough for me to take deep cleansing breaths.

I am a Fifth Grade teacher of severely under privileged children. However, I know that there are angels in this world, like you, who have reminded why I do what I do. That's when a sense of peace and warmth surround me. Thank you for my bit of Heaven today."

"I received this from my sister in law this evening. This is the most beautiful email I have ever received. I truly believe and try to live by these standards, and now at the age of 58 I find myself caregiving my elderly parents and know the importance of peace in one's heart is the greatest gift we will ever receive. I was very fortunate to be born with patience, understanding and the love of nature. I was raised as a child near the ocean which I find therapeutic and refreshing....the walk in the sand barefoot is what I love to do. I am so touched by your poem I wanted you to know, you brought great joy to my heart this evening."
